

Passages - George Bernard Shaw

It is positively because he is quick witted that he is long winded

A man must be orthodox upon most things, or he will never even have time to preach his own heresy.

Dogmas are often spoken of as if they were signs of the slowness or endurance of the human mind.

As a matter of fact, they are marks of mental promptitude and lucid impatience.

A man will put his meaning mystically because he cannot waste time in putting it rationally it is better to speak wisdom foolishly, like the Saints, rather than to speak folly wisely, like the Dons.

Bernard Shaw entered England as an alien, as an invader, as a conqueror. In other words, he entered England as an Irishman.

Wit is always connected with the idea that truth is close and clear. Humour, on the other hand, is always connected with the idea that truth is tricky and mystical and easily mistaken.
